Dear Christine

Re Adelaide Park Lands National Heritage Nomination

We have identified another two items relevant to the nomination.

1. The South Australian Museum's website provided the enclosed "Potted History" which identifies it has the world's largest collection of Aboriginal artefacts. The museum is located on the Adelaide Park Lands along North Terrace
2. The Bodyline Test Cricket Series was voted by "The Age" as the most important moment in Australian Test Cricket history. The 3rd test held at Adelaide Oval 13-19 January 1933 was the defining match of the infamous Bodyline series and is an event of national importance. I have enclosed a copy of the 11-02-2004 Age article as well as an enlarged copy of the articles text.

Best wishes
